Join us for a special presentation by:

Kettly Mars

Writing Under Lock. Haitian Literature in the Post Dictatorial Era
How does socio-political instability affect production of arts and literature?

Kettly Mars will offer a lecture about her writings, the influence of social tensions in Haiti and will read an excerpt of her novels At the Frontiers of Thirst/ Aux Frontières de la Soif and Savage Seasons/ Saisons Sauvages.

April 26th in EUC Claxton
12-1:45pm

For disability accommodations please contact:
Dr. Tresor Yoassi at spyoassi@uncg.edu

Special thanks to the Women and Gender Studies Department, the Kohler Grant via the International Program Center, and the International Global Studies Department for their support.