

A TESOL undergraduate minor or graduate degree prepares you to work as:

K-12 teachers working with multilingual learners in the United States
 English language instructors for adult learners
 English language instructors overseas
 Instructors or coordinators of community-based English language development programs Curriculum leaders, school administrators, and district leaders promoting multilingual education

UNCG undergraduates may pursue:

TESOL Minor

for all undergraduates with good academic standing in any major take TESOL minor courses online during the undergraduate study (no separate application needed)

require 12 credit hours of undergraduate coursework

Dual Registration

for all undergraduates to request to take graduate-level courses in TESOL courses may count towards a future graduate degree (up to 12 credit hours and grades of B or above)

courses can be evaluated for double counting at the time of admission to the graduate program
